

Virtual University holds Motivational Seminar

A motivational seminar titled “Giving up? Don't even think about it” was held at Virtual University of Pakistan, M.A Jinnah campus Lahore on Tuesday, September 04, 2018. The event was organized by Directorate of Quality Enhancement to motivate the people that disability does not matter when there is an urge to achieve your goals. The seminar was attended by Principal Officers, academic and non-academic staff of VU, and students.

Mr. Waqas Ahmad (Chairman Pace 2 Life Welfare Foundation) was the guest speaker in the seminar. He shared his personal experience as a handicapped person and discussed the challenges he faced to achieve his goals. He discussed that disability does not limit opportunities rather it opens doors to many challenges in his case.

Addressing the audience in the seminar, Dr. Syed Abdul Majid (Registrar VU) expressed that disability is regarded as a limitation by some people while others take it as an opportunity. In the context of opportunity, it has been proven that it is simply the passion that matters and leads to an achievement.

Dr. Naveed A. Malik (Rector VU) concluded the seminar by appreciating the thoughts shared by the two speakers earlier. He further added that majority of the ‘special people’ strive to normalize accomplish this with such flair that they no longer see themselves as “different” and move forward despite the numerous challenges their lives with patience, strength and courage and move forward despite the numerous challenges. In the end, wheelchairs were distributed among some of the disabled students of the varsity.
